

ASX Release
28 May 2013

VOCUS announces resignation of Mark de Kock, Executive Director, Strategy

VOCUS Communications Limited (ASX: VOC) today announces the resignation of Executive Director Strategy, Mark de Kock. Mark has decided to pursue other interests.

Mark joined Vocus in 2009 before the company listed on the ASX. He played a key part in guiding the company through the listing process by ensuring minimal disruption to the core business during that period. Since then Mark has played an active role in the strategy of the company and until recently also managed the company's data centres. Vocus' recently appointed Chief Operating Officer, Luke Mackinnon, has taken over management of all data centres.

The board would like to take the opportunity to thank Mark for all his hard work.

"I am immensely proud to have been part of the team to grow Vocus to a ASX500 company, and the time has come to recharge my batteries before seeking new challenges. I believe that Vocus has a wonderful team in place and is perfectly positioned to capitalise on the tremendous growth in data transmission and the associated required infrastructure and as such I remain a committed supporter and shareholder." Mark said.

(ASX:VOC) Vocus Communications is an ASX listed leading telecommunications provider of data centre, dark fibre and international internet connectivity across Australia, NZ, Singapore, Hong Kong and the US. The company provides high performance, high availability, and highly scalable communications solutions, which allow service providers to quickly and easily deploy new services for their own customer base.

