

ASX Release
7 March 2013

Half-Year Results Announcement and Presentation Clarification

NEXTDC Limited (ASX: NXT) (“the Company” or “NEXTDC”) wishes to correct an error in the announcement that accompanied the Appendix 4D that was released to the ASX on 28 February 2013. The statements under the heading and “Sales” should have referred to the “period to date” and not the “period”.

The Company also wishes to clarify the information illustrated in the graph headed “Revenue Sources” on page 12 of its results presentation released to the ASX on 28 February 2013. The graph is inclusive of power revenue and was intended to be indicative as to the possible mix of NEXTDC’s revenue sources. The graph is not intended to be a forecast or projection of actual revenue and should not be relied upon as such.

secure colocation services to corporate, government and IT services companies. NEXTDC's purpose-built facilities have been designed to address the market's growing appetite for energy-efficient, independent data centres in which organisations can host their critical IT infrastructure, and also to address the emergence and growth of cloud (internet-based) computing. As a cloud enabler, NEXTDC's enterprise-class data centre facilities address the challenges of security, connectivity and neutrality that have hindered the wider acceptance of cloud computing.
