ASX Release

OZ Minerals 2012 Full Year Financial Results

OZ Minerals Managing Director & CEO, Terry Burgess commented that “2012 saw many significant milestones achieved with production and cost guidance met at Prominent Hill and an annual dividend payment to our shareholders again at the top of the payout ratio range; with the final dividend double that of the interim dividend.

Successful drilling programs across the group during 2012 have led to the 2.9Mt increase in Ore Reserves at the Prominent Hill Ankata underground mine – effectively increasing its life by approximately two years. A focused infill exploration drilling program at Carrapateena during 2012 has led to a 43% increase in Mineral Resources and has provided OZ Minerals with the confidence to fast track these exploration activities through the construction of an exploration decline to allow further geotechnical testing of this deposit. We announced a regional discovery at the Khamsin prospect approximately 10 kilometres northwest of the Carrapateena deposit. In 2013 we will focus on resource drilling in the Malu underground and drill testing of targets at Carrapateena.

2013 is a transitional year for OZ Minerals as we build a foundation for future production from Prominent Hill with the peak year of waste removal from the Malu open pit and the development of the Malu underground mine set with the objective of first stoping ore in 2014.

With a strong balance sheet and no debt, OZ Minerals is in an excellent position to capitalise on growth from within our own portfolio and to continue our disciplined evaluation of further value-adding opportunities in copper.”

SUMMARY

- Significant improvement in safety performance at Prominent Hill during 2012.
- Final unfranked dividend of 20 cents per share^{1,2} resolved to be paid – double the interim dividend. Total dividend with respect to 2012 earnings of 30 cents per share representing a payout ratio of 60 percent of net profit after tax from normal operations which is at the top of the dividend payout range.
- Prominent Hill production and costs were within the company’s stated guidance.
- Development of Ankata underground completed for $148 million within original budget. Underground operations commenced during the year with mining of high grade copper ore.
- Resource drilling during 2012 leads to a 2.9Mt in the Ore Reserves of the Ankata underground, which represents about two additional years of mining.
- The infill exploration program at Carrapateena provided some excellent drilling results during 2012 along with a new 2012 Mineral Resource estimate – 292Mt @ 1.29% Cu (at a 0.7% copper cut-off) representing a 43 percent increase over the 2011 Mineral Resource estimate.
- Acquisition of a Tunnel Boring Machine to accelerate the development of the exploration decline at Carrapateena.

CONCEPTUAL GROWTH VISION

This timeline is largely conceptual and provides a basis for management to plan the future development of the company and its potential activities. Such long term planning and vision is essential for resources companies. As this looks forward over many years, this planning and the timeline are by necessity subject to many variables, some of which may not eventuate, including required regulatory and community approvals, successful resource drilling, suitable technical and cost outcomes, adequate funding and favourable economic and market conditions, some of which may not be within the control of the company.

- Robust 2012 financial results.
- Final dividend (unfranked) of 20 cents per share with total dividend for 2012 earnings of 30 cents a share.
- Underground mining gaining momentum through:
 - Successful development of Ankata underground mine
 - 2.9Mt increase in Ore Reserves at Ankata
 - Mine development and resource drilling at Malu underground.
- Confidence grows at Carrapateena with a 43% increase in the 2012 Mineral Resource estimate – purchase of a Tunnel Boring Machine to accelerate exploration decline development.
- New regional discovery at Khamsin prospect with further drilling in 2013.
- Strategy remains on course and continues to be implemented.
