ASX Release

For Release: 23 October 2013

ANZ 2013 full year result Excel template

ANZ will announce its full year financial results on Tuesday 29 October 2013.

To assist market participants in analysing the Group's financial performance, ANZ provides an Excel version of key tables with the Results Announcement. This will be available on ANZ's website in the Shareholder Centre (anz.com/results) together with other materials related to the results shortly after the materials are lodged with the ASX.

Traditionally, ANZ also provides a version of this template ahead of the results announcement containing prior period numbers; this is now available in the Shareholder Centre (Full Year 2013 Announcement section) along with cash profit reconciliation materials (in the Analyst Toolkit section).
